What Is Social Trading?

IMAGINE THIS

- You're new to the world of trading forex, cryptocurrencies, or other financial stuff.
- It seems complicated, and you're worried about making bad decisions and losing money.
- You see your friend is really good at trading and making money.

BASICS OF SOCIAL TRADING

- Social trading or copy trading lets you automatically "copy" what your experienced friend is doing.
- It's like watching over their shoulder: Every time they buy or sell something, your account does the same.
- You benefit from their knowledge: If they make a profit, you usually profit too!

Social trading is your learning tool for your investment journey.

Keep In Mind

NOT A GUARANTEED WIN

Just like a trained cyclist may have some mishaps, even experienced traders can make mistakes. Copying someone doesn't guarantee you'll always make money.

DO YOUR RESEARCH

Don't blindly copy just any trader. Research their performance history, understand their risk tolerance, and make sure their style aligns with your own. It's still your money.

CAUTION

Remember, even though you're copying someone else's trades, it's ultimately your money on the line. Be responsible and manage your risk properly.

New Feature

Autoscale: (New Feature)

This update enables Autocopiers to copy trades from Leaders with a proportionate scale based on their Equity and Balance. Here's how it works:
For example, if a Leader has a Balance of $20,000 and an Autocopier has a Balance/Equity of $2,000, and the Leader opens a trade of 1 lot, the Autocopier will automatically open a corresponding trade of 0.1 lot. This proportional scaling ensures that trades are executed in alignment with the relative sizes of the accounts, providing a more accurate and risk-aligned copying experience.

Volume Multiplier

Number to multiply the Leader's volume by for a copy.
Copied volume = Volume Leader * Volume multiplier
Example: when the Leaders uses 1 lot and you have placed here 0.5, only 0.5 lots will be placed

Subscription Profile

A Follower can set up certain filters for their subscription to protect their investment. If the Leader's trade does not meet the criteria, it will not be copied.
